The presentation advocates for an emphasis on three strategic areas of our discipline: Social Movement research to reassess the role of suasion in social change; Rural Sociology to cultivate and harvest a deeper understanding of the grievances and hopes across the divide; and the interdisciplinary terrain of Cognitive

Political

Moral Psychology ... The (re)ascendance of strain theory in criminology and critical race theory in sociology has spawned a new approach that emphasizes the salience of racial inequality in micro-interactions. Recent studies, which focus on African Americans, point to interpersonal racial discrimination as an important risk factor for offending (e.g., McCord and ... the heart of our business has always been marine fish and the coral reef. our constant dedication to the saltwater hobby has provided the most diverse selection of coral, and salt water fish that the fort wayne, indiana area has ever hosted.

we ensure that our livestock is collected and transported safely and properly from the time its acquired until you purchase it from us. this guarantees that customers receive the highest quality animals on the shortest supply chain possible and that we preserve our marine environment for future generations to enjoy.

petware house receives new stock almost every week, and if you are searching for that particular fish or coral, we do special orders all the time.

not to be over shadowed by our dominating saltwater department: we have more tropical freshwater fish than any store in town.

everything from pond koi and fancy goldfish to tetras, oscars, piranha, and catfish.

we also have the areas largest fresh water plant selection. including species growing on driftwood, potted, and loose bunches.

currently we are expanding our selection of african cichlids, so be sure to check back often for more varieties of these colorful fish.

our discus are bred by a local gentleman and he is always hard at work breeding new varieties. the results of local breeding are much hardier and disease resistant discus than their wild counterparts. they acclimate quickly and feed vigorously upon introduction. many of our customers have successfully had them breed in their homes too.

petware house is also currently stocking goldfish, guppies, and rosy reds for all your predator fish needs.
